

Product Developer, Footwear – hummel

Do you have a passion for footwear and a sharp eye for what makes a collection come together? Are you energized by turning trends and insights into products that actually sell – and by being the glue between creative vision and commercial reality? Then you might be our new Product Developer, Footwear at hummel!

A Quick Look at the Role

Location: hummel headquarters, Balticgade 20, Aarhus C

Team: Footwear

Working hours: Full-time

Application deadline: July 9, 2026.

Join the Team!

As Product Developer, Footwear, you'll become part of our Footwear team – a team of around 4 dedicated colleagues with diverse backgrounds. We play on the team that has the most fun – and we always play offense! For us, it's all about taking initiative, supporting each other, and celebrating both the small and big wins. In Footwear, we are responsible for managing the entire development cycle, from product vision to final confirmation - and we work closely with Design, Buying, Sourcing and external suppliers

More About the Role and Your Responsibilities

As a Product Developer, you'll be responsible for building collections & concepts, being the link between design, product development and delivery, playing a key role in delivering impactful results – both for our team and our customers:

- Concept & collection building - based on trends, market feedback and historical performance
- Structure collection lineplan - ensuring the right footwear product matrix, retail price build up, gross margin target and delivery flow
- Planning Marketing concepts in close collaboration with Marketing department
- Develop and sustain the supplier portfolio - ensuring the right balance between product development and production
- Price negotiation
- Spearhead planning of data registration in ERP data towards Sales and customers

How to Make the Team

We're looking for someone who is passionate about their field and a true team player. You take responsibility, thrive in collaboration, and are curious about how we can continuously improve – together.

To succeed in the role, we expect that you:

- Have minimum 3-5 years of experience in a similar role
- Have an advantage with shoe product development experience
- Are motivated by creating products & concepts, while planning, follow-up and process handling is part of your DNA
- Enjoy an environment with fast pace, deadlines and cross functional work
- Have strong communication skills and experience with ERP systems, PLM or similar tools
